FLEXIBLE HOOF PAD

PROPAD IS THE ONLY HOOF PAD WITH AN INDEPENDENT FROG SUPPORT TO PROMOTE GROUND CONTACT, AIDING IN LOAD SHARING AND INCREASING BLOOD FLOW.

Propads are dual-purpose polyurethane hoof pads that provide shock absorption and frog support to a shod horse. Propads fill the void between the frog and the ground, giving the function and feeling of being barefoot while wearing a shoe.

When you put shoes on a horse, you elevate the hoof which deactivates the frog. The patented accordion-like frog support featured in Propads allows the frog to regain proper function and ground contact. The horse's weight is then appropriately distributed across the entire foot and the frog acts as a pump, promoting healthy blood flow and hoof growth.

Propads come in three different densities: Support, Support Soft and Xtra Soft. Each style supports the bony column, reduces stress to the laminae and wall, and reduces pressure to joints and ligaments.

Extremely versatile, Propads can be used with any open heel shoe, making it ideal for all disciplines and breeds. They can be cut and used as a rim pad with added frog support, or left intact for sole protection and/or use with packing material.

"Propads provide a simple and effective way to shift the load from the wall and heel to the frog in a natural manner. We have even used these effectively on horses that sustained PIII fractures! Not something you would normally try, but they assisted in bringing the horses back to work sooner and sounder."

-Stephen Teichman, Farrier, 3-Day Eventing Horses

BENEFITS:

- Increased comfort due to shock absorption
- Proper weight distribution by removal of weight from the hoof wall
- Increased blood flow due to appropriate frog-to-ground contact

USE:

- With any open heel shoe
- For any discipline and with any breed
- Incomparable quality and durability
- Cut the center or leave whole to protect the sole or use packing material
